DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC (See 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5) and MPEP 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text are permitted to be submitted on compact discs.) or REFERENCE TO A "MICROFICHE APPENDIX" (See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.)
- (e) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (f) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (g) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (h) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (i) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (j) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

Cross reference to related applications should be listed on the first paragraph of the specification. Applicant also reminded that to provide the application numbers for those incorporated references.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 8, which inherits the limitations of claim 1, recites the term "symbol synchronization". However, claim 1 strictly direct to a method of estimating coefficients of an equalizer filter. Claim 1 does not define or merely suggest how symbol synchronization is related to the estimation of coefficients and how to employ the symbol synchronization. Therefore the recitation of "symbol synchronization is made on the least delayed path of the channel" cannot be understood.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 and 5 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Diehl et al. (US Patent 6,771,722).

Regarding claim 1, Diehl et al. teach a method of estimating coefficients of an equalizer filter which receives an input channel signal $Y(n)$, initializing pre-selected coefficients of the equalizer filter in accordance with a calculate channel matched filter model, and estimating the coefficients of the filter using an estimation technique and a known input channel signal to this equalizer (see column 1, lines 45 – 55).

Regarding claim 5, which inherits the limitations of claim 1, further, Diehl et al. teach the estimation technique is least mean square technique (see column 1, lines 60 – 65).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Diehl et al. (US Patent 6,771,722) in view of Shoji et al. (US Patent 5,303,263).

Regarding claim 6, which inherits the limitations of claim 1, Diehl et al. failed to teach the estimation technique is a recursive least squares technique. Shoji et al. teaches a method of estimating the coefficients of the adaptive equalizer using recursive least squares technique (see abstract). Therefore it would be obvious to an ordinary skilled in the art at the time of the invention was made to combine Shoji et al.'s recursive least squares method in Diehl et al.'s method to benefit the higher convergence speed and higher estimation accuracy (see column 5, lines 41 – 44).

Art Unit: 2634

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2 – 4 and 7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
